Sday

4 April 80 (from Capt Kriley) Leopold not there on 4th and returned call on 2 April

- Capt Kriley offered appointment to go to Rand on Research fellowship for 1 year with follow on assignment to SA for 3 years
- He explained that normally that SA would nominate an officer, always a pilot. SA asked MPC, I came up with a name, MPC came up with Leopold's name. Call from Capt Kriley to Leopold to see if Ray was interested
- He further explained SA would have to buy-off. Ray asked Kriley how much it would be. Kriley said by the 10th April. Ray asked Kriley for number at SA for information and Kriley provided number
- After talking with Kriley, Ray called number and talked with a Col. Green. After hearing about Ray's background Col Green seemed ~~quite~~ quite excited but did point out that other people including Rosebery would have to buy-off.
- Later that night Ray decided to accept the job and called MPC on 8 April. When Ray talked to Capt Kriley on the 8th, He told me SA was so excited about Ray that they had already requested his file and were

IT

- starting to work the assignment at that point it was clear that Ray was the only person being looked for that assignment.
- Within the next couple of days Ray talked to two other Cols from SA - Col Proffit and Col Nagle - Again they were very optimistic but did point out Ben Rosenberg would have to approve.
- ~~He told them~~ Ray told them he had briefed Rosenberg on two occasions. Ray heard no more for two weeks.

On either 24 or 25 April Col Nagle called to tell Ray that they had decided to consider a Lt/Col selectee currently in SA for the position. Ray asked Nagle to let him know one way or the other as soon as possible because Ray had already started to make plans to move to LA.

On Monday 28 April Ray called Col Nagle to offer to fly to Washington at own expense to be interviewed for that job. Nagle informed Ray they had decided to send the other guy.

- 1 May 80 Ray received another call from MPC from a Major John Franco (career advisor). He called to tell Ray that since he was due to go PCS this summer that MPC had to work on an assignment.
- Since Ray had not heard back from MPC concerning Rand assignment, ~~that~~ he was still hopeful that MPC would force SFA to send him. Maj Franco said "He thought he knew Ray's name (Ray) from somewhere but Franco didn't know what happened with Rand so he said he would check and call back. He called back and informed Ray that Kriley indicated they were sending the other guy. Ray was upset and Franco talked for about 95 minutes to calm Ray down and talk about other ~~other~~ assignments.
- Franco told Ray to think about three assignments: Air Staff/SFA ~~SFA~~ and indicated that Col. Wagle wanted Ray for Special Projects at LA Air Station and education with industry at any of several places.

2 May 80 Ray and Franco to amplify ~~conversation~~ conversation.

Later on 1 May 80 I found a Maj Alexander at W.P. RFB who was in charge of education with industry. He encouraged Ray to choose EWIC and to go to Draper Labs at MIT.

Also informed Ray he would have to be interviewed for Spape job - Interview not accomplished

- He also had Mr Marlowe from Proper call to give Ray more information.
- Mr Marlowe encouraged Ray to go there also.

- On Monday 5 May Ray received call at his home at 0615 AM from MPC (Capt ~~Glenn~~) telling Ray that other people were also being considered for that same EWIT job.

- Called May Franco that he would accept EWIT. He hedged and said they weren't sure they ~~would~~ could work it. He then told Ray of a position at Spape Hdqs. that required an RFSC of 2685. Position would be Ops Research Advisor ~~(that position)~~ 3 year assignment and a pilot slot and informed Ray he had #2 choice a pilot was number #1 choice. Ray accepted the assignment but was put on standby.

- On 7 May 80 Franco requested a volunteer statement. ~~Ray~~. Ray checked with personnel people and they said he should put it on form 90. Ray called Franco back told him he would volunteer by way of Form 90. Franco required copy of Form 90 a bottle copy of Form 90.

On 8 May 80 Byrd called Leopold and told him about PAREE position. On 9 May 80 Leopold accepted position. Form 90's were prepared but not typed in. Byrd sent by secretary without original signatures.

V

- On 9 May 80 talked with Franco about ~~Shope~~ Shope assignment details. Ray told him he was being considered for a different position in Washington. Franco asked what job was and he told him that people told him not to discuss position.

On 12 May 80 Mrs Bossie invited Ray to interview for PAREF position.

On 15 May 80 Ray interviewed with PAREF. ~~Harry~~ Mrs Bossie indicated to Ray that ~~he had the job~~. ~~Harry said~~ ~~Harry~~ wanted Ray and she had to work it.

On 16 May 80 Ray looked for books then offered contract on 21 May 80. Ray had paid $10 for credit check and $85 for inspection and put $220 down. Ray doesn't get gold $10 and $85 are gone. Good chance could get $220 back. Also leased house in Colorado Springs so must be out June 22 ~~not~~.

On 2 June 80 O'Connor informed Ray he had Shope assignment.

THE NEW RELEVANCE OF CONFEDERATE MILITARY HISTORY

During the Korean War, our enemy's principal fighter aircraft, the MiG-15, seemed in theory to overmatch our F-86 Saber by a considerable margin. The MiG-15 was superior to the F-86 in almost every single maneuver of aerial combat. Yet as the war developed, the F-86 usually won the battles between the two planes. An Air Force officer now retired, Colonel John Boyd, analyzing these curious facts, has discovered that the victories of the Saber cannot be attributed simply to any possible American superiority in pilot training. Rather, though outperformed in individual maneuvers, the F-86 could make the transition from one maneuver to another much more rapidly than the MiG-15. The result in combat was that MiG-15 pilots found themselves consistently reacting late — with each transition from one maneuver to another, the MiG fell further behind, until the cumulative effect of its delayed reactions was maneuvering completely inappropriate to the actions of the F-86. The MiG pilot then became utterly befuddled and demoralized, and usually he lost.

Robert G. Tanner's Stonewall in the Valley, for example, currently an HBC offering, if read in the light of Colonel Boyd's observations will produce an echo of confirmation. Was it not Stonewall Jackson's stunningly abrupt transitions from one maneuver to another, more even than the speed of his "foot cavalry" on the march, that left his opponents too confused to cope with him? From his "fast transient" jabbing against Fremont in the battle of McDowell to marching down the Shenandoah against Banks's line of communication, Jackson's opponents were consistently responding to his last move while he was already engaged in the next.

Jackson was probably one of the two greatest masters of tactical and strategic maneuver in American military history. Perhaps his only equal was his coadjutor, R. E. Lee, who helped inspire Jackson's Valley Campaign and who joined Jackson for the dazzling maneuvers of Second Manassas and Chancellorsville. Jackson and Lee stand almost alone because maneuver has not often been a forte of American generalship. Usually enjoying superiority in military resources, American generals by and large have relied on overpowering their enemies. The Confederates, however, had to be generals of maneuver, because, unlike most American soldiers, they had to compensate for inferiority of numbers and resources. How to compensate for such inferiority has become, on the other hand, the unaccustomed critical problem of American strategic thought today.

The work of Douglas Southall Freeman is a major exception to the American neglect of the military lessons that Lee and Jackson might still offer the twentieth century. With his R. E. Lee and Lee's Lieutenants (as well as Tanner's Jackson in the Valley) still on the HBC list, the reader can explore for himself the new relevance of Confederate military history, by pondering again the Confederate campaigns in the light of the current troublesome balance of military strength between America and her potential foes.
