7th Congress.]

No. 155.

[1st Session.]

LIST OF SUITS DECIDED AND DEPENDING IN THE COURTS OF THE UNITED STATES.

COMMUNICATED TO CONGRESS, FEBRUARY 26, 1802.

FEBRUARY 26, 1802.

Gentlemen of the Senate and of the House of Representatives:

Some statements have been lately received of the causes decided or depending in the courts of the Union, in certain States, supplementary or corrective of those from which was formed the general statement accompanying my message at the opening of the session; I, therefore, communicate them to Congress, with a report of the Secretary of State, noting their effect on the former statement, and correcting certain errors in it, which arose partly from inexactitude in some of the returns, and partly in analyzing, adding, and transcribing them, while hurried in preparing the other voluminous papers accompanying that message.

TH: JEFFERSON.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, February 25, 1802.

The SECRETARY OF STATE has the honor to lay before the President of the United States copies of the following documents, to wit:

A schedule, containing a statement of the suits in the Circuit Court for Maryland, ending with the November term last.

A similar statement of suits in the District Court for Kentucky, ending with March term last.

A certificate of the clerk of the Circuit Court for West Tennessee, (and who was the clerk of the late District Court for Tennessee,) respecting the suits in the courts of the United States within that State.

The two last-mentioned papers are intended as corrections of the document referred to in your message to Congress at the opening of the present session, as containing a statement of the suits in the courts of the United States; and the first-mentioned schedule to supply an omission in it.

This occasion being adapted to the purpose, the Secretary takes leave to mention some other imperfections of the document referred to in the message.

In Massachusetts 14 common-law suits being omitted at October term, 1797, the whole number of common law suits should be 244, instead of 230; the aggregate of all the suits 323, instead of 320; and the number of suits decided, discontinued, dismissed, and not prosecuted, 282, instead of 283.

In Virginia, the aggregate should be 2,162, instead of 2,048; and the number decided, discontinued, dismissed, and not prosecuted, 1,831, instead of 1,717.

In North Carolina the aggregate should be 629, instead of 495; and the number decided, discontinued, dismissed, and not prosecuted, 495, instead of 361.

And in South Carolina the aggregate should be 882, instead of 1,143; and the number decided, discontinued, dismissed, and not prosecuted, 621, instead of 571.

None of the above variations affect the whole number of causes stated to be depending in either of the districts, except that of Kentucky, to which an addition of 21 is made by the second statement received; but Maryland adds to the whole 69 of such causes. That the aggregate is not materially varied is also apparent from the annexed recapitulation.

It would be unnecessary to explain with minuteness how these errors originated; it is sufficient to observe that they arose partly from inexact statements returned to this office by the clerks of the courts, and partly in analyzing and adding the numbers contained in the returns, and transcribing the result.

All which is respectfully submitted.

JAMES MADISON.
