(C) RIMPAC 92, (19 Jun - 24 Jul) is a CINCPACFLT, combined/bilateral maritime exercise involving opposed battle force operations in a multi-threat environment. RIMPAC 92 scenario is the same as Tandem Thrust, however, any suggestion of particular regional applicability, or power projection operations as a prime exercise objective has been avoided. The scenario will reflect a deteriorating political situation that will eventually require hostile action between opposing forces. This is the thirteenth exercise in the RIMPAC series. The exercise will be conducted in southern California. USMC participation is limited to aircraft support.

PURPOSE

- (U) To conduct within the RIMPAC 92 exercise area a realistic multi-threat exercise to improve the coordination and interoperability of combined forces in maritime and theater operations.

- (U) To conduct a structured exercise to enhance overall warfare capabilities of participating combined forces operating together in a low-medium intensity environment.

- (U) To demonstrate the capability and limitations of current allied procedures and tactics.

- (U) To verify experimental tactics and evaluate new tactics, as agreed upon by participants.

- (U) To afford the participating units the opportunity to conduct live weapon firings under semi-freeplay conditions on a mobile sea range, and under controlled conditions on an instrumented range.

- (U) To afford the opportunity for the exchange of personnel at all levels.

- (U) To exercise and improve the Australia, Canada, New Zealand, United Kingdom, Japan, Korea, and the United States combined exercise agreement.
