

Profession of Arms

Purpose

To develop professional company grade officers who are mentally, morally, and physically fit ready to take on the complexities and decisions associated with the appropriate level of command.

Method

A holistic approach among the three sub-courses delivered through lectures, seminars discussions, and practical exercises spaced throughout the academic year.

Endstate

EWS graduates serve as leaders who exhibit the Marine Corps' Core Values and standards in keeping with the highest levels of professionalism expected of commissioned officers and demonstrate critical and creative thinking, ethical decision making, and effective communication.