ORGANIZATION

THE NAVY DEPARTMENT

NOTE.—The sea and other service affixed to the names of officers in the Register is computed to the 1st January, 1861. As a general rule, the "sea service" with which an officer is credited, is for duty performed under orders from the department, as part of the complement of a vessel-of-war, belonging to the Navy, in commission for sea-service. Officers on the Coast Survey are allowed sea service only for the time they are actually afloat. No credit is given for service in Revenue and Merchant vessels. In the column "unemployed," is included the time between date of warrant and date of first order from the department for service.

☞ The attention of officers is particularly called to the Orders and regulations published in the latter part of the Register.

EMPLOYMENT OF MECHANICS TO REPAIR MERCHANT VESSELS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, July, 1840.

Employment and compensation of mechanics to repair merchant vessels. The practice of allowing the mechanics employed at the several navy-yards, and on board ships on foreign stations to repair vessels belonging to the merchant service of the United States, will in future be limited to cases where a refusal to do so would of necessity impose injurious delays or greatly increase the expenses upon the merchant vessel. In such cases the mechanics shall make no demand for any compensation, but receive only such as the owner, assignee, or master of such merchant vessel shall choose to give, and their commander is willing they should take. Officers of the Navy, in like cases, shall neither claim nor receive any compensation whatever.

Gratuitous assistance to be given. In all cases of distress, gratuitous assistance is to be given as heretofore, to the fullest extent practicable.

J. K. PAULDING.

REGULATION.

PUBLICATION IN NEWSPAPERS OF TRANSACTIONS OF A PRIVATE NATURE PROHIBITED.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, December 7, 1841.

Publication of transactions of a private nature prohibited. Officers of the Navy are strictly prohibited from publishing, or causing to be published in newspapers, pamphlets, handbills, or otherwise, any disrespectful or offensive matter relative to transactions of a private nature, between officers or between officers and citizens; and any officer so offending shall be arrested and tried therefor; and one specification of the charge against him shall be the violation of this regulation.

PRESENTATIONS OF SWORDS, ETC., PROHIBITED.

The practice of presenting swords, plate, or other things of value from inferior officers to from crews, to their superior or commanding officer, in the way of compliment; and all votes or resolutions, whether of praise or censure, from inferiors to superiors, are injurious to discipline, and of evil tendency in other respects. They are therefore strictly forbidden.

NAVAL GENERAL ORDERS.

ARRESTS ON A FOREIGN STATION.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, December 15, 1841.

Whenever an officer shall be arrested on a foreign station, it shall be the duty of the commander-in-chief of the station to order a court for his trial as soon as possible after he shall be notified of his arrest, and this he shall not refuse or delay, except for imperative reasons connected with the public service.

If such imperative reasons shall exist, so that a court-martial cannot be detailed and actually sit for the trial of the accused, his arrest may continue for thirty days after the commander-in-chief of the station shall be notified thereof, and no longer, and the accused shall then be returned to duty, unless, for sufficient reasons, the commander-in-chief shall otherwise direct; but he shall be again arrested, and shall be tried as soon as the condition of the service will admit of it.

No officer arrested on a foreign station shall be confined to his room nor restrained from the proper use of any part of the ship in which, before his arrest, he had a right to be, except the quarter-deck, unless such restraint shall be necessary for the safety of the ship, or the preservation of good order and discipline, and even in that case he shall be no further restrained than shall be necessary.

NAVAL GENERAL ORDER.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, February 11, 1842.

Officers of the Navy applying for a leave of absence or an extension thereof, on the score of ill health, must forward at the same time to the department the certificate of a surgeon in the Navy, if there be one in their vicinity, or, if there be no naval surgeon, of some respectable surgeon or physician, of their inability to perform duty.

RIGHTS AND POWERS OF COMMANDERS OF SQUADRONS AND CAPTAINS OF FLAG-SHIPS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, April 22, 1842.

Commanders of squadrons and captains of flag-ships.

The frequent misunderstandings which have occurred between the commanders-in-chief of squadrons and the captains of their flag-ships, on the subject of their respective rights and powers; misunderstandings which result only from the fact that their true relation to each other has not yet been properly defined, have suggested to the department the propriety of expressing its own views upon the subject. The following general rule embraces these views:

The commander-in-chief of a squadron, having in command of his flag-ship an officer of equal grade with himself, holds the same relation to that ship as to every other ship of his squadron.

While it is impossible to specify all the powers of a commander-in-chief over the ship which bears his flag, or of the captain of a flag-ship in subordination to the powers of the commander-in-chief, a due observance of the spirit of the above rule will go far to prevent any conflict or collision between those officers.

The dignity of a commander-in-chief is lessened by his engaging in the details of duty of his particular ship, and the respect which ought to attach to the immediate captain of the ship is weakened by any interference with him in the rightful exercise of his authority.

The commander-in-chief of a squadron will find the best support to his own dignity and importance in maintaining the dignity and importance of the officers who are subordinate to him. While, therefore, his superiority must be always admitted, and his authority respected and obeyed, a due and prudent regard to the limitation above indicated, will tend strongly to preserve the discipline and harmony of the service.

REGULATION.

COMMANDER AS EXECUTIVE OFFICER OF A FLAG-SHIP.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, December 24, 1842.

Commander as executive officer.

The regulation of the 30th April, 1842, which prescribes that "when a commander shall be attached to a ship-of-the-line or frigate bearing the broad pennant of a commander of a squadron or station, he shall be considered as the executive officer of the ship, and shall have an apartment and mess in the ward room," is hereby annulled; and in future no ship will be allowed a commander as executive officer, unless a captain will receive him in his cabin.

REGULATION.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMMANDERS OF STEAM VESSELS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, February 26, 1845.

Commanders of steam vessels will cause the following orders to be carried into effect in the vessels under their command, in addition to the general orders and regulations which apply to sailing vessels, or to the general service of the Navy.

The following rules to be carried into effect in steamers.

First. Steam engineers of the Navy, when embarked in vessels, are to conform to the orders of the commanding officer of the vessel, and of the officer of the watch for the time being; but they are not, except in cases of great emergency, to be ordered to perform other duties than those immediately connected with the preservation, repair, or management of the engines and their dependencies.

Engineers to conform to orders.

Second. When practicable, one engineer at least is always to be on duty in the engine room whenever the fires are lighted; and when more than one engineer is attached to the vessel one must be on board at all times ready for duty.

One engineer to be on duty in engine room.

Third. The engineers, firemen, and coal-heavers are to be arranged in watches, and when on watch are to be under the immediate direction of the engineer of the watch, and are not to be ordered on other duties than those connected with the engines, boilers, and their dependencies, except in cases of emergency.

Engineers, firemen, and coal-heavers, to be arranged in watches.

Fourth. The senior engineer is to prepare and submit, for the approval of the commander, bills showing the specific duties of the respective engineers, firemen, and coal-heavers in their watches, for attending to and for cleaning the different parts of the engines and their dependencies, and he will give particular attention that the prescribed duties are performed in a proper manner, and, in case of misconduct or neglect, report offenders to the officer of the watch, or to the commander of the vessel, as the case may require.

Senior engineer to prepare watch bills.

Fifth. When the engines are in operation, reports are to be made hourly to the officer of the deck, whether the engines and their dependencies are in good order, and immediate notice must be given him, at any time, if anything should occur to require a change in the orders under which the engineer is then acting, or special attention to any particular object, to insure safety or more efficiency.

Reports when engines are in operation.

Sixth. The firemen are to be instructed as far as may be practicable to qualify them for managing the engines and dependencies with safety, in case accident or other cause should prevent the attendance of an engineer.

Firemen to be instructed.

Seventh. The senior engineer on board must examine daily the engines and their dependencies, and all parts of the vessel which are occupied by them, or by stores for their use, and make immediate report should any defect or danger be discovered. He must give timely notice to the commander of the vessel of the probable wants of his department, and whenever articles are received for it, must carefully examine if they are of proper quality, and report any which, in his opinion, may be objectionable.

Senior engineer to make daily examinations.

Eighth. Upon the arrival of a steamer in port, an early inspection is to be made by the senior engineer, to ascertain if the engines, boilers, or their dependencies require repairs or cleaning, and will report forthwith to the commander of the vessel.

Inspection when steamer arrives in port.

Repairs or cleaning to be made by the engineers, &c. Ninth. When repairs or cleaning are required for the engines or boilers they are to be made, as far as practicable, by the engineers, firemen, and coal-heavers of the vessel, and they are to be employed on such duties in preference to coal-ing, if both should be necessary at the same time.

Force-pumps. Tenth. The force-pumps, hose, and all other means for extinguishing fires must be always kept in good order and ready for immediate use, and so reported at the end of each watch by the engineer on duty, and the utmost care must be taken at all times in the arrangement of stores, the use of lights and fires, and the adoption of other precautionary measures to prevent the danger from fire, to which steamers are so much exposed.

Steam-log. Eleventh. A steam-log is always to be kept when the vessel is moved by steam, which log is to be signed in the "column of remarks" by the engineers of the respective watches, at the expiration of their watch and at noon of each day by the senior engineer of the vessel.

Entries to be made in steam-log. Twelfth. The engineer of the watch will be careful to note hourly on the steam-log all the information which the columns in it require, and to place in the "column of remarks" full information of the state of the weather and sea, and any accidents to or defects in the engines or their dependencies, the quality of the coal, or other circumstances, which may be useful for determining the powers and qualities of the vessel, and the engines, under the various circumstances to which they may be exposed. He will carefully note in it the draught of water of the vessel and immersion of the bucket-boards, just before going to sea and on arriving in port, and frequently when receiving coal or other stores.

Steam-log to be handed to commander daily. Thirteenth. The steam log-book is to be handed to the commander of the vessel daily, by the senior engineer on board; and it shall be the duty of the said commander to examine the same, and when satisfied of its correctness to sign it at the end of every calendar month, or oftener should the vessel in the mean time arrive at or anchor in any port.

Steam-logs to be deposited at navy-yards for the use of steamers. Fourteenth. Steam log-books, calculated to contain the log for one quarter of a year, and hydrometers, will be deposited at the respective navy-yards, for the use of steamers, upon proper requisitions. The commander of the vessel must transmit to the Secretary of the Navy, by the first safe opportunity after the close of the months of March, June, September, and December, the steam log-book for the preceding quarter, and whenever a steamer is placed in ordinary, for the period which has not been previously transmitted.

and that of coal-heavers.

Should any fireman or coal-heaver neglect his duties, or be unable to perform them, the commanding officer of the squadron, or, in his absence, the commanding officer of the vessel to which such fireman or coal-heaver belongs, may, if he deems it necessary, direct another person to perform them during the continuance of such neglect or disability, or until the place is supplied by a person of the proper rating; and the person so appointed shall receive the pay of the situation which he may thus fill. But the commanding officer shall, when it is practicable, direct second class firemen to succeed or supply the places of the first class; and the coal-heavers, if qualified, shall take the place of the second class firemen in the preference to other persons.

Neglect of or inability to perform their duties.

Firemen and coal-heavers, when unable to perform their duties, or when they neglect them, shall receive only a reduced pay—that is, firemen of the first class shall only receive the pay of firemen of the second; those of the second the pay of coal-heavers; and coal-heavers the pay of seamen so long as they neglect their duties, or are unable to perform them, or until duly discharged from the service.

To be placed on reduced pay when they neglect or are unable to perform their duties.

* It is to be understood, as a part of the conditions on which firemen and coal-heavers enter the Navy, that, in case any right to a pension should occur before any action of Congress shall be had on the subject, the rate of pension to a first class fireman shall not exceed that to which a boatswain's mate would be entitled; that of a second class fireman, the same as for a quartermaster; and that of a coal-heaver, the same as for a seaman.

Pensions to firemen or coal-heavers.

Firemen and coal-heavers should be shipped on articles which refer to these regulations, which shall, in all cases, be read to them before they sign the articles.

Articles to be read to them.

* See act of Congress respecting naval pensions to engineers, firemen, and coal-heavers in the Navy, and to their widows; section 2. Approved August 11, 1848.

Promotion of firemen of the first class shall be eligible to promotion to the rank of third firemen and assistant engineers; second class firemen, to the grade of first class; and coal-heavers, to the grade of firemen.

MEDICAL SURVEYS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, December 22, 1854.

Medical surveys. The second section of the General Order of the department, approved September 27, 1851, prescribing the manner of holding medical surveys, is hereby revoked, and the following is substituted in lieu thereof:

EXECUTIVE OFFICERS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, February 14, 1855.

Rank and precedence of Executive officers. The exception in favor of "executive officers," when on duty, made in the General Orders of the Navy Department of August 31, 1846, and May 27, 1847, which orders were legalized by act of August 5, 1854, is construed to apply to said officers while in the discharge of their military duties on board the vessel at the station to which they are attached, but not on any other occasion.

DISBURSEMENTS BY PURSERS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, March 20, 1855.

Disbursements by Pursers. The second section of the "Joint resolution for the relief of pursers, &c.," approved March 3, 1849, provides "that every disbursement of public moneys, or disposal of public stores, made by order of any commanding officer of the Navy, which shall be objected to by the accounting officers of the Treasury, in the settlement of the accounts of any disbursing officer, shall nevertheless be allowed to such disbursing officer; and the commanding officer by whose order such disbursement or disposal was made, shall be held accountable for the same."

This enactment does not authorize an advance of public money by the purser to the commanding officer, or to any other person, on his order. The disbursement presupposes an indebtedness, and whether the objects for which the indebtedness accrued were sanctioned or not by law or regulation, the purser would be entitled to a credit for payment therefor, when made by order of the commanding officer. But the disbursement must be for some service rendered or article furnished. For instance: if a clerk, not allowed by law, be employed, or if an excess of the regulation-complement of cabin furniture, or if unauthorized provisions or stores of any kind be purchased, by direction of the commander, and by his order the purser has paid for such unauthorized service or supplies, the purser will receive a credit for the payment, and the commander will be held accountable.

In regard to advances or loans, however, the laws of January 21, 1823, and August 26, 1842, are not repealed or modified by the joint resolution of 1849. The sixth section of the act of August 26, 1842, declares "that it shall not be lawful for a purser in the Navy to advance or loan any sum or sums of money, public or private, or any article or commodity whatever, or any credit, to any officer in the naval service, under any pretense whatever." To allow a purser to advance or loan to a commanding officer on his simple order the funds provided for the expenses of the ship and wages of the crew, would be dangerous to the service and unsafe for the Treasury, leaving an open door for collusion and fraud. No credits will be allowed to pursers for advances or loans hereafter made by orders of commanding officers, no matter how frequent or peremptory such orders may be.

Approved:

GENERAL ORDER.

SUMMARY COURTS-MARTIAL.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, April 4, 1855.

In conformity with the ninth section of the "Act to provide a more efficient discipline for the Navy," approved March 2, 1855, the following regulations have been submitted to, and approved by, the President of the United States, and will be observed by summary courts-martial convened under the authority of the said act:

Rules and forms of proceeding of summary courts-martial.

1. Summary courts-martial will adopt the same forms of proceeding and rules of evidence as naval general courts-martial, so far as they shall be applicable and not inconsistent with the conciseness and precision enjoined by the law, nor with the provisions of this General Order.

2. The form of convening a summary court-martial will be by a brief written order addressed by the commander of the vessel to the senior member of the court, stating the names and rank of the members of the court, and of the recorder, and of the time and place of meeting; and by written or verbal orders to the other members of the court and the recorder. The written order to the senior member will be appended to the record of the proceedings.

3. The record will state that the oath prescribed by the law was duly administered to each member and to the recorder, in the presence of the accused.

4. If objection is made by the accused to any member of the court, it will be so stated in the record of proceedings, and made known, if the court think fit, to the commander of the vessel, who will, at his discretion, order another member of the court, or continue the member objected to.

5. The accused shall be furnished, before trial, with a written specification of the offense or offenses for which he is to be tried. The specifications shall be as brief as practicable, without unnecessary repetition or circumlocution or be as brief as practicable, without unnecessary repetition or circumlocution or accumulation of epithets, but explicit; and all offenses or misconduct committed at any one time by the same individual and intended to be charged against him, shall be comprised in the same specification, which shall be approved, before trial, by the officer ordering the court, and a duplicate of it to be annexed to the record.

6. The accused shall not be required to plead guilty or not guilty to the specification; but if a plea of guilty be made, the court may, at its discretion, admit testimony as to the character of the offender, or in extenuation of the offense. And, in any case, the court, may find the accused guilty of the whole or any part of the misconduct charged, according to the evidence, and adjudge punishment for so much as shall be found proved.

7. Witnesses shall be summoned by the recorder through the executive officer of the vessel, and the summons shall be obeyed, unless disapproved by the commanding officer for some reason to be stated in the record.

8. The court, if requested by the accused, may allow a commissioned, warrant, or petty officer to appear as counsel, and cross-examine witnesses in his behalf; but no written defense or argument, nor any protracted oral defense or argument shall be admitted. Nor shall any testimony not clearly revelant be admitted, nor any documentary evidence be read to the court or appended to the record.

9. If more than one case be tried by the same court, the record of each case shall be separate, the order for convening the court shall be appended to the record of the first case, and be referred to in each subsequent record, so as to show that the proceedings of the court are continuous. And in each case the prescribed oath shall be administered anew to the members and the recorder of the court.

AMERICAN CODE OF SIGNALS ADOPTED FOR THE USE OF THE NAVY.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, April 14, 1855.

American
Code of Signals adopted for the Navy.

In order to facilitate the mode of communication at sea between ships-of-war and the merchant service, the American Code of Signals, by Henry J. Rogers, has been adopted for the use of the Navy, copies of which will be distributed by the proper bureau, among vessels of the United States Navy, as the department may, from time to time, direct. The flags will be made at the yards or on board ship, as may be most convenient.

Commanding officers of the Navy will embrace every opportunity to familiarize the service with the use of these signals.

GENERAL ORDER.

HONORABLE DISCHARGES.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, April 7, 1855.

Honorable discharges.

Whenever any seaman, ordinary seaman, landsman, or boy, who shall have received the "honorable discharge" from the Navy, authorized by the "Act to provide a more efficient discipline for the Navy," approved March 2, 1855, (form of which has been prescribed by the department,) shall, within three months from the date thereof, present said "honorable discharge" at any naval rendezvous, if he shall answer the description of such discharge, and shall be physically qualified, he shall be reenlisted for three years, and, upon his transfer to a receiving ship, shall be entitled to receive three month's pay equal to that to which he would have been entitled if he had been employed in actual service" in the rate specified in the "honorable discharge."

If the "honorable discharge" should have been lost, reference can be made to the files of the department for corroboration that the person presenting himself did receive an "honorable discharge," and for a descriptive list of his person.

The recruiting officer will write on the face of the "honorable discharge," over his official signature, the date of reenlistment. After the reception on board the receiving ship of the person reenlisted, the commanding officer, also, will write on the face of the "honorable discharge," over his official signature, that the three months' pay has been credited or paid to him, with the date of such credit or payment, and the amount thereof.

To those reenlisting under the "honorable discharge," the advance authorized by the General Order of the department, dated August 11, 1854, will also be made.

Should the person holding an "honorable discharge" prove physically disqualified, it will be so written by the recruiting officer on the face of the discharge, and such discharge shall not entitle the holder to be received under it.

In the reenlistment of men under honorable discharges, regard will be had to the provisions of the Circular of March 25, 1851, in relation to enlistments.

On the returns now required to be made to the department of enlisted men from rendezvous and receiving ships, special reference will be made to those men who have been reenlisted under an "honorable discharge," and from what vessel they received their discharge.

Commanding officers of vessels, upon returning from a cruise, when directed to discharge the whole or any part of the crew, will furnish to those who, in their judgment, are entitled to it under the law, an "honorable discharge," and separate returns will be made to the department of the names and description of those to whom they have been given.

Blanks for the honorable discharges and return will be furnished by the department, and great care should be taken that they are both accurately and fully filled out.

A yeoman, however, is not to be discharged until his accounts have been audited and approved of by the commandant of the yard, as required by the Ordnance Instructions and other general regulations or orders. If found correct, the commandant of the yard will then grant the "honorable discharge," if entitled to it in the opinion of the commanding officer of the vessel to which to which he belonged.

Yeoman not to receive his discharge until his accounts are settled.

When invalids are sent to the United States from a foreign station, the commanding officer of the vessel to which they belonged will transmit a list of their names to the department, stating the general character of each, and designating such as, in his opinion, are entitled, under the law, to the "honorable discharge," in order that the commandant of the station at which they may arrive in the United States may be directed to grant the said discharge to those deserving it. A duplicate of this list is to be sent also to the commandant of the station where they are to arrive.

When any seaman, ordinary seaman, landsman, or boy, shall be discharged at his own request, or for his own convenience, before the expiration of his term of enlistment, he shall not be entitled to the "honorable discharge."

"FLEET CAPTAIN"—"FLAG LIEUTENANT."

NAVY DEPARTMENT, August 31, 1855.

Fleet captain, flag lieutenant. The attention of the department having been recently drawn to the fact that orders issued by the commanders of squadrons to those under their command are frequently signed by officers designating themselves as "Fleet Captain" or "Flag Lieutenant," purporting to be "by order of the commander-in-chief of the squadron," the department directs that hereafter all orders in writing, of whatever nature, emanating from the commander of a squadron, shall be signed by such commander himself only.

COMMENCEMENT OF PAY OF OFFICERS.

Extract from a letter addressed to the Fourth Auditor of the Treasury by the Secretary of the Navy, dated October 23, 1855.

Commencement of pay of promoted officers. "I find on examination that the rules of this department in relation to the commencement of pay of officers promoted have varied. The prevailing practice seems to be to allow pay from the time to which the commission relates in giving rank. This has long been, and is now, the rule of the War Department, to which there is a determination to adhere. I think there should also, if possible, be uniformity in the rules of the two branches of the service.

"I am of opinion, therefore, that it is better for the present to allow the pay back to the period of rank.

"This need not interfere with the General Order of June 9, 1853, applicable to special cases."

GENERAL ORDER.
