Manuscript Register Series
NUMBER TWO
MUSEUM MANUSCRIPT REGISTER SERIES

The Register Series is prepared under the joint direction of the Curator of Manuscripts and the Senior Historian and will include similar registers of the papers of notable Marines held by the Marine Corps Museum. Use of the collection is restricted to the premises of the Marine Corps Museum, which, due to the limited staff, cannot undertake research within the collections for individual requestors. Serious scholars wishing to use the holdings will be welcomed by the Museum staff; however, since at present, space for researchers is somewhat limited, two weeks advance notice is requested. A letter specifying the intention of the researcher and the proposed date of his visit addressed to the Curator of Manuscripts, Marine Corps Museum, Quantico, Virginia 22134 will be of great assistance.

The Marine Corps Museum is located a few miles south of Washington, D. C., just off Interstate 95 and is open daily to the public free of charge. The research facilities are open to users who have obtained prior authorization from the Curator from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, federal holidays excepted.

COVER SEAL

The seal used on the cover of this and other Marine Corps Museum publications is an interpretation of an 1812 U. S. Marine Corps hat device by JoAnn Wood.

FOREWORD

In 1967 the Marine Corps Museum implemented a program designed to acquire and preserve the personal papers of former Marines for future students of history. A substantial number of collections were subsequently located and acquired, and the program continues to expand apace. Many of the Manuscripts have an appeal beyond the confines of Marine Corps history, and it is toward these that the Museum addressed its initial efforts. In order to introduce the collections to the academic community so that they may be exploited to add to the body of knowledge of the development of our country, the Register Series was begun. It is hoped that this series will stimulate scholars to investigate this virgin field of military manuscripts in the pursuit of authenticity, accuracy, and involvement.

INTRODUCTION

The McLane Tilton papers were received by the Marine Corps Museum in 1967 and are particularly useful in documenting the life of a Marine officer at sea during the latter half of the nineteenth century.

Tilton was a typical Marine officer of the post Civil War era whose career was marked by lengthy tours of "sea duty" interspersed with assorted shore assignments and slow but steady promotion from Second Lieutenant in 1861 to Lieutenant Colonel upon his retirement from the Corps some thirty-six years later.

The present collection resulted primarily from Tilton's two cruises as a fleet Marine officer when he composed long letters to his wife, Nan, the former Anne Mayne Wells, describing his activities in considerable detail. For example, as Senior Marine Officer with the Asiatic Squadron 1870 to 1872 he led the U. S. Marine contingent in the Korean Expedition of 1871. Extracts of his Asiatic Squadron letters have been published by the Naval Historical Foundation under the title MARINE AMPHIBIOUS LANDING IN KOREA, 1871, v. 5 no. 2 of the AMERICAN NEPTUNE titled "Mission to Peking, 1870."

The second major group of letters resulted from Tilton's 1877-1879 cruise as Senior Marine Officer of the Mediterranean Squadron, and gives an excellent insight into the nature of the U. S. Navy's role as an instrument of international relations during the period.

The Tilton collection is especially useful in that it records not only military events as experienced by the author, but describes at length his impression of indigenous society on both the Asiatic and the Mediterranean stations.
McLane Tilton, scion of an old Maryland family, was born at Annapolis on 25 September 1836. He was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps on 2 March 1861, and over the ensuing years, slowly but steadily rose to become one of the two lieutenant colonel's in the Corps at the time of his retirement in 1897.

During the Civil War, Tilton served with the West Gulf Blockading Squadron, The Marine Barracks, Pensacola, Florida and at the Marine Barracks, Washington, D.C.

Shortly after the war Tilton was transferred to command the Marine Barracks at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland. It was during this tour of duty that he met and married Anne Mayne Wells to whom he was to address as "Nannie" the majority of the lengthy correspondence which is the subject of this register. After three years of apparently happy married life, Tilton reported to the USS COLORADO in 1869 for a tour of sea duty as Senior Marine Officer of the Pacific Squadron.

In this capacity, he led the U. S. Marine contingent in the Korean Expedition of 1871. He also escorted the American Minister, Frederick Low, to Peking, in a trip noteworthy for the detail with which it is described in Tilton's letters home. In 1872 Tilton returned to Annapolis, once more in command of the Marine Barracks and remained there until 1877 when he was again assigned to duty at sea -- this time, aboard the USS TRENTON on the Mediterranean Station. As on his previous cruise, Tilton wrote home the delightful description of his life aboard ship and of contemporaneous Mediterranean society.

Upon his return in 1880, Tilton took command of the Marine guard at the Washington Navy Yard, a post he held until 9 March 1888, when he simultaneously was promoted to major and reassigned to command of the Marine Barracks at Norfolk, Virginia. Tilton stayed at Norfolk for the remainder of his career, being promoted to Lieutenant Colonel 28 February 1891, and on 1 February 1897, he retired and returned to Annapolis where he lived until his death 2 January 1914 in the family home which is today preserved by Historic Annapolis as the Lockerman-Tilton House.

1870
Dec. 23. Tilton, mouth of the Yang-tse-Kiang, to "Nannie". (Entire letter tipped) On way to Japan; views on voyage.

1871
Jan. 1. (continued) (incorrectly dated 1 Jan. 1870) Attends New Year's celebration with the Admiral; description and impressions of mixed public bathing by the Japanese and of Japanese clothing; Tilton's impression of Japanese homes.

Jan. 7. (continued) (incorrectly dated 7 Jan. 1870) At anchor in the Inland Sea; will head for Hiogo (Kobe); describes agriculture methods of Japan; comments on political makeup of Japan; refers to troubles with new pay bill for the Corps; hears of smallpox epidemic in Yokohoma; attends burial of Mr. Bryan, in U. S. Cemetery at Kobe.

Jan. 8. Tilton, Kobe, Japan, to "Nannie". Enclosure of Japanese coins and description of same (with drawings and tracings); comment on gold as currency in Asia; page three of letter has overlay sketch of Japan and Korea, which includes course followed by USS COLORADO.

Jan. 9. (continued) (no date - cited as "Monday") Wishes epaulettes belonging to his father to be given to his mother by his wife; plans to visit Oaska, Japan, tomorrow.

Feb. 4. Tilton, at sea, to "Nannie". (Entire letter tipped in) Headed for Hong Kong from Nagaski, Japan; going to Hong Kong rather than to Yokohama due to epidemic of smallpox there; ship has had three cases of smallpox already; believes ship will be quarantined in Hong Kong; comments on the troubles which Admirals Porter and Essex are having back home.

Feb. 7. (continued) in Formosa Channel; about 250 miles from Hong Kong; no new cases of smallpox aboard the USS COLORADO; comments on the deplorable condition of uniforms; describes practices of the Japanese launderers.

Feb. 8. (continued) USS COLORADO in Hong Kong harbor.

Mar. 7. Tilton, Hong Kong, China, to "Nannie". Sailing shortly for Manila; complains of duty as Judge Advocate of the Asiatic Fleet.

Mar. 8. (continued) Mentions various people whom he meets on shore, mainly friends of the family; describes odd eating hours aboard ship.

Mar. 9. (continued) Mentions forthcoming trip to Korea; feels scope of the voyage will be "to endeavor to open the country up like we did Japan."
1871

Apr. 8. Tilton, Woosung, China, to "Nannie". Made trip to Shanghai yesterday; USS COLORADO had run aground on 6 April, was freed by two tugs; mentions Mrs. Low, wife of Minister to Peking; expects Minister and Mrs. Low to accompany ship in official capacity on voyage to Korea; rumor that the USS HARTFORD will relieve USS COLORADO at Cape of Good Hope in the spring of 1872.

Apr. 9. (continued) Finds China a mystery; describes method of Chinese burial; comments on position of male Chinese children; discusses the disparity in value of Chinese males and females in the social structure; describes the peculiar practice of binding feet of Chinese females; notes Chinese respect for the dead; comments on absence of fences in China; describes construction of telegraph lines and their impact on Chinese.

Apr. 24. Tilton, Woosung, China, to "Nannie". Telegraph lines have been established between Shanghai and Hong Kong by a group of "Danes"; communication between Woosung and Shangah already established, but ten word message to United States would cost twenty dollars; dined with Admiral Rodgers, Minister and Mrs. Low and son; Minister Low to accompany USS COLORADO to Korea; USS COLORADO leaving Woosung 1 May, headed for Nagasaki, Japan; USS ASHUELOT expected any day; details on rescue by an American Schooner of five natives of Korea, who were shipwrecked; Consul at Tientsin turned them over to Admiral Rodgers; natives were afraid Americans would kill them; Tilton feels handling of survivors in a hospitable manner will impress Koreans as to how United States wishes to have their seamen handled in similar plights.
Apr. 27. (continued) USS ASHUELOT, which wintered at Tientsin on the Pei-ho River, develops engine trouble; ship left some days ago, but has not appeared.

May 5. (continued) USS ASHUELOT arrives in Woosung; USS COLORADO may leave for Nagasaki on 8 or 9 May.

1871 May 12. Tilton, Nagaskai, Japan, to "Nannie". Arrived Nagasaki this morning; description of city of Nagasaki; most of United States Fleet in harbor, as well as many of the foreign navies; "Our expedition to Korea starts from here, and after communicating with them on the river called in the French map Seoul, we go over to Chefoo on the other side of the Yellow Sea, and wait long enough for the Koreans to make up their minds as to whether they will agree to treat kindly any Christians wrecked upon their strange & unknown coasts"; Government of China has advised Korean Government to consider the proposition favorably.

1871 May 16. Tilton, at sea, off coast of Japan, to "Nannie". Underway for Korea; fleet includes USS COLORADO (Flagship), USS ALASKA, USS MONOCACY, USS BENECIA, and USS PALOS: Tilton feels expedition will be peaceful, without incident; is of the opinion that the Koreans will not respond, and that trip will be useless; believes that best account of expedition will be found in the New York Herald, as correspondent for that organization was not allowed to accompany the expedition, and he will vent his wrath within the columns of his newspaper.

May 20. (continued) Fleet laying off destination about 50 miles, undergoing drill and small arms firing; recounts tale of plight of shipwrecked sailors of some months ago, where, after being captured by the natives, the sailors were cut up, pickled, and put on display as curiosities; states: "... it is with not a great pleasure I anticipate landing with the small force we have, against a populous country containing 10,000,000 savages!"

May 21. (continued) (undated - cited as "Sunday Noon") Fleet approaching shore through heavy weather, no land can be seen.

May 26. (continued) At anchor off the west coast of Korea; feels expedition will be in contact with Korean authorities by middle of next week. (Letter incomplete)

1871 June 4. Tilton, at anchor, near Boisée, P’d, Saleè River, Korea, to "Nan". June 1, Gunboats PALOS and MONOCACY were sent up Saleè River to make soundings; gunboats were fired upon by Koreans from a mud fort; three Americans were slightly wounded; USS MONOCACY hit, but quickly repaired; believes retaliation from United States will be intense; feels the Koreans cannot see why United States wants treaty and that the incident will be blown out of proportion by the newspapers.

1871 June 21. Tilton USShip COLORADO, off Isle Boisée, Korea, Asia, to "Nannie". Action over, expedition unable to acquire a signed treaty; feels expedition does not contain enough force to drive Korea capitol, if directed to do so by official directive; description of country side; description of landing of United States forces; detailed account of entire action, beginning on June 10, reports Lieutenant McKee killed in the action; comments on the capture of Korean flag by himself and two Marines; states copy of report on action sent to General Zeilin.
June 23. (continued) personal news to family.

June 27. Tilton, off Isle Boisée, Korea, Asia, to "Nan". Headed for Chefoo, China, to pick up Mrs. Low, wife of United States Minister to Peking and son, thence to Yokohama, Japan; account of the horrors encountered in attack on forts; photographs of carnage to be found in London Illustrated News and other major papers; enclosing swath of flag that was captured by Marines; mentions photograph taken of himself, Private Purvis and Corporal Brown; notes that he has for a souvenir: "... plume and tassel of peacock feathers and red and yellow horse hair. ... cap of the General at Fort du Conde (or Elbow fort)", which he will forward to his wife in the future; hopes to sail by July 1.

July 3. (continued) Heading for Chefoo; false report being circulated at Chefoo, that the Koreans had wiped out the American fleet and killed all the men; lists casualties for the action as one officer, one sailor and one Marine; conducting investigation of small arms ammunition, which in the recent action failed to fire; considers the expedition a complete failure.

July 5.
